Carol,

This article ran in the Deseret News last week. It is fairly accurate but as always words were put in my mouth: I did not say anything about being 25% done. Sharon (reporter) actually tried to get Reese and myself to say that if we are not successful in cleaning up the private lands, the work done on NFS lands would be of little value. Of course we told her just the opposite was true - that the work completed thus far will improve environmental conditions and water quality in AFC significantly.

Any word on getting a group together here in Utah to develop the "proposal" we discussed?

Ted

Folks,

A nice spread on Ted's work has appeared in the Desert News. It can be seen online here:
